Man's best friend shares wisdom

WITH a little help from human mate Robyn Osborne, Sox the blue cattle dog cross has penned Dog Logic: A pooch's guide to dogs behaving badly.

Last Thursday Mrs Osborne, a teacher at Chatsworth State School, was "pawtagraphing" books at Goldfields Plaza's Angus and Robertson book store, although Sox had decided to keep a low profile and stay at home.

Mrs Osborne's quirky and fun dog-help book combines the creative genius of her canine pal with her own long-term observations to create an intriguing and personal journey into the world of dogs.

The pair take the reader on a journey deep in to the canine world, sharing insights that will ensure you are not barking up the wrong tree and answering the questions you did not even know you wanted to ask.

Published by Big Sky Publishing, Dog Logic: A pooch's guide to dogs behaving badly is available at selected outlets throughout Gympie.

SPECIAL APPEARANCE: Robyn Osborne signs her new book, Dog Logic, at Gympie's Angus and Robertson book store last week.
